

NRC is working toward a future where everyone's potential can be fulfilled.

What about yours?

We offer opportunities to make an impact with the next generation of technology solutions we work with today. We invite you to explore, dream big, and learn more about what we can offer you.

We've got you covered.

At NRC, people are the source of our energy. Creative people from all types of backgrounds, bringing passion and new ideas, meeting challenges, and realizing their potential. Our benefits plan and resources are designed to keep our most important assets – our employees – healthy, happy, and moving ahead at optimal speed.

What we offer:

At New Resources, we offer a professional, fast paced work environment built on our philosophy of "Work hard; play hard." We understand the need for personal and professional balance, yet we also believe that rewards are directly linked to effort. As a member of the New Resources team, we ask for your commitment. In return, we meet your needs with flexible compensation packages that can include:

- ▶ A competitive salary
- ▶ Performance bonus opportunities
- ▶ Company-funded health and dental benefits
- ▶ Company paid life, short-term and long-term disability benefits
- ▶ Paid time off
- ▶ A company-funded 401k plan
- ▶ Education and training assistance
- ▶ Career plans / mentored career path
- ▶ Company-sponsored staff meetings and social gatherings

We want NRC employees to wake up every morning excited about the opportunities that lie ahead and able to focus their energies on creating new and better solutions for our customers. Our benefits plan and resources are designed to give you the support you need to do your very best.

If you want to be part of a successful team, join us!

We share a passion for technology and what it can do for people. It's a shared passion for innovation, exploration, and creativity, and a belief in the value of software, teamwork and the difference it can make in people's lives.

Get to know us.

In 1992, we formed a consulting group in Milwaukee dedicated to finding solutions to real business problems. We built our reputation one client at a time, always remaining current on the tools and technologies that give our customers a competitive edge.

Then, as now, we thought of ourselves as the people on whom our customers could rely—we knew their organization's success, their project's success, even career success—depended on how well we did our jobs.

Today, we have offices in Chicago, Kansas City, Detroit, St. Louis and Milwaukee, and more than 250 organizations have chosen us as their strategic partner.

We are proud we've developed a reputation of reliability, trustworthiness and technical expertise. We look forward to continuing the tradition.

Why New Resources?

NRC is governed by the fundamentals of good business practices. That means we believe in loyalty, a strong work ethic, a solid business ethic, and a willingness to give back through community service. As a part of our team, you will be respected, challenged and rewarded. You'll expand your personal boundaries and you'll reach new heights. You'll be given a forum to share your ideas. And, you'll be given a reason to feel that you have a voice in shaping our future. Our management team strongly believes that the success of NRC comes as a direct result of the people who work here. Because of this belief, we work as a team... we grow as a team... and we succeed as a team.

We're picky.*

- ▶ About our people. We hire only those who are passionate about helping others achieve their goals.
- ▶ About our standards. We expect to live up to the high standards we set for ourselves, and the high standards our clients deserve.
- ▶ About our reputation. What our clients and employees think of us matters more than anything.
- ▶ About your success. We succeed when you succeed. We'll help you where you want to go.

*Really picky.
